

Testimonials

I have built a reputation for the high quality of my work – please see below for some testimonials from satisfied clients.

Head of Medical Information, Basilea Pharmaceutica International Ltd

"Steph has undertaken the annual updates to our Standard Response Letters for several years now and always does a great job. The process runs extremely smoothly and the documents are very well-written. We look forward to working with Steph again for this year's updates."

Communications Consultant, Oxford PharmaGenesis

"I have huge levels of trust in Steph as a talented Medical Writer and would recommend her support to anyone. She easily understands project briefs and delivers work to a very high quality".

Publications Director, Rude Health Consulting Ltd

"Steph consistently delivers high-quality publications content, often to tight deadlines, and I greatly appreciate her professionalism and experience. One of my most demanding clients now specifically asks for Steph's involvement in their projects, which reflects the level of service she provides."

European Medical Journal

"Working with Steph was an absolute pleasure, her adherence to the guidelines of the European Medical Journal was flawless. Keeping to the timelines was brilliant, often being ahead of the deadline dates. The research and preparation for the interviews was brilliant, her knowledge of the topic area and ability to bring up discussion points from the answers gave a flowing conversation and managed to incorporate far more information going above and beyond the expectations set. For writing quality, when put through our Editorial House Processes the article passed with no amendments or requirements which is an absolute rarity."

Senior Medical Director, Touch Independent Medical Education

"Stephanie provided writing support on a manuscript in an unfamiliar therapy area and with a complex brief. Her writing was of the highest quality, with immaculate attention to detail and was always delivered on time. Her flexibility in attending team status calls and making herself available according to our shifting schedule was very much appreciated. I was happy to see that several of the manuscript peer-reviewers commented on how well-written it was, which is a testament to Stephanie's excellent medical writing skills."

Principal Medical Writer, Oxford PharmaGenesis

"I have been very impressed with every single piece of work that you have touched. It is a real pleasure working with you, hope we can continue for a long time."

Principle Medical Writer, MedComms Experts

"Steph has worked with us across a broad range of projects and therapy areas. She is trustworthy, quick and always produces high quality work."

Scientific Team Lead, Leading Medical Communications Agency

"Steph is attentive to detail, very intuitive and consistent in meeting deadlines. Her communication skills are excellent and she always delivers high quality work. Thank you, Steph!"

Digital Managing Editor, Open Access Government

"Steph has provided an excellent service for our publication on a number of occasions. She is professional and quick to meet tight deadlines whilst delivering high-quality content. It was a pleasure to work with her, and we would certainly look to use Steph again in the future for any complex medical pieces!"

Project manager, Edanz Pharma

“I wanted to take this opportunity to say a big thanks to you for your hard work on the assignments I’ve sent you. It has been an absolute pleasure working with you. I always felt the project was in safe hands when sending you any assignment.”
